NATION'S RECORD VOTE IS CAST IN EARLY INDICATIONS

Ideal Weather in Nearly Every State Brings Out Balloters Early to the Polls

BETTING GROWS EVENER

Wall Street Wagering Opens for Day with Odds Almost Even, After Spell of Hughes Sentiment

BY PERRY ARNOLD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—America cast a record vote for president Tuesday, if an unusually heavy run of balloting is any indication. Reports gathered by the United Press from all over the country showed a vote up to noon heavier than ever before recorded in that length of time—in many instances aggregating as much as half the total registration.

Ideal weather in almost every state aided in bringing out the balloters. In the "pivotal states" of New York, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, the before run on the polls showed that the "silent vote" on whose word at the polls depends the election, was probably speaking very loudly.

Some detailed reports, gathered by the United Press from all over the country, showing progress of the voting, follow:

New York—Up-state reports from Oswego, Syracuse, Buffalo, Schenectady, Albany, Rochester, Saratoga, Poughkeepsie, all showed unlooked for size in early voting crowds. Schenectady showed 20 per cent more voting to noon than four years ago. Buffalo reported a run for a time of a vote a minute.

In Albany one-third of the vote had been cast by 10 o'clock.

In New York city, upper Manhattan cast the heaviest early vote in history. Voting in the business section was very light early, but by noon there were long lines of voters at the polls. Queens, Richmond and Bronx boroughs experienced record early crowds at booths.

Michigan—Grand Rapids reported 20 per cent of the registration cast by 9 o'clock.

Pennsylvania—Philadelphia, one-third of 305,000 registered by 10:30. Pittsburgh leaders estimate total vote 5,000 to 10,000 more than in 1912.

New Jersey—Elizabeth, heaviest early vote in history of county. Trenton voting trifle above normal. Camden, 25 per cent of the registered vote in at 10:30.

Massachusetts—Springfield, record vote in western part indicated by a heavy early run. Holyoke, record vote being cast. Pittsfield, farmers getting out earlier than any election in the memory of oldest inhabitant.

Boston, long lines of voters waiting and extraordinarily heavy early vote. Vermont—Burlington vote above normal during early hours.

Maryland—Baltimore, prohibition amendment and general election bringing out heaviest vote in history. Ohio—Columbus, vote here averaged a minute for a time and running very heavy. Cleveland, a great deal of scratching, but nevertheless heavy early vote.

Indiana—Indianapolis, heaviest early vote on record.

Delaware—Wilmington, very heavy voting everywhere in state.

Missouri—St. Louis, thirty per cent of 44,000 votes cast at 11:00 o'clock.

Kansas City, leaders say one-fourth total vote cast to 9 o'clock—heaviest early vote in history.

Illinois—Chicago, record vote is probable. Thirty per cent of registered vote cast by 9:30. Springfield, election commission two-fifths total vote cast at 11 o'clock.

Iowa—Des Moines, 10:30 a. m. one-fourth registration already cast. Oklahoma—Oklahoma City, trifle above normal, 20 per cent cast to noon.

Nebraska—Lincoln, heavier than normal early vote.

Minnesota—St. Paul, voting normal.

Colorado—Denver, up to 10:00 o'clock vote extremely heavy.

Texas—Dallas, estimated 50 per cent above normal early vote.

Wisconsin—Milwaukee, 20 per cent of vote cast up to 11 o'clock.

The Solid South—Vote normal.

While publicly sponsors for the republican and democratic organizations declare entire confidence in the vote, privately they are very much at sea. In no previous election has there been such complete lack of indication of which way the straws blow. The "silent vote" has been

FULLEST PREPARATION FOR QUICK ACTION ON RETURNS

Mayor A. A. Bentley will preside at the meeting and introduce the announcers. Leave it to His Honor. Among those who will assist in announcing the returns are:

FRANK WINTER,
JUDGE CAMERON BALDWIN,
E. J. KNEEN,
A. H. SCHUBERT.

THE THEATRE WILL BE OPEN AT 7:30 P. M.

A leased wire of the United Press association, the world's greatest news service, has been cut into the theater. In the presence of the audience an expert telegraph operator will transcribe the reports as they are flashed over the wires from every city and county in the United States.

With a representative in every precinct the TRIBUNE will gather the returns from La Crosse county the moment they are available. A competent group of experts will compile them and immediately they will be sent to the stage and announced.

The TRIBUNE'S Madison bureau, and the United Press bureau in Milwaukee will flash the state returns to us by special wire. These will come directly to the theater.

The plans are the most complete and thorough-going ever arranged to secure and compile election returns in La Crosse, and the TRIBUNE'S guests at La Crosse theater will receive the earliest advices coming to this city from every quarter.

All seats in the body of the house are FREE—first come, first served. The boxes have been reserved for elderly people and invalids, who are invited to make known their wants in advance. Certainly an American audience will co-operate with us in saving these physically less able citizens from the entrance jam.

An orchestra will dispense music, and there will be vocal music of a local order.

Remember that this invitation is extended to EVERYBODY in La Crosse and the surrounding country, towns and villages, and that it is a FREE SHOW.

CAPTAIN OF LANAO SAYS BOAT WAS OF AMERICAN REGISTRY

LONDON, Nov. 7.—There was only one American aboard the steamer Lanao sunk by a German undersea boat October 28, it was learned Tuesday. Captain Henry Mainland, report from Wales said, was the one American aboard. He said his ship was of Philippine registry and flew the American ensign when she was held up off the Portuguese coast and scuttled with a bomb after her crew had been taken off. Mainland left no doubt as to the nationality of his ship.

In a cablegram Consul Skinner reported the sinking of the ship but failed to mention whether she sailed under the American flag, or whether there were any Americans aboard.

The case, it was agreed, may prove to be similar to that of the American grain schooner William P. Frye, early in the war, if further evidence like Tuesday's supports the vessel was of American registry.

In his last note on the Frye, the German government said it had instructed naval commanders not to sink American vessels unless carrying absolute contraband.

TRIPLE WRECK ON PENN

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 7.—A triple collision on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad near Portage early Tuesday wrecked two freight trains and a fast passenger train. Fifteen freight cars, a passenger engine, a sleeper, and a baggage car were derailed but no one was injured.

WHO WILL WHEEL WHOM?

ELECTION QUESTION FOR THESE FREAK BETTORS

Harry Henderson, Hotel Stoddard clerk, or Frank B. Erroi, Madison, Wis., traveling man; Joseph Beranek or Emil Hagen of North La Crosse, will take long journeys with wheelbarrows when the final returns of Tuesday night's election have been compiled.

The fate of Woodrow Wilson and Charles Evans Hughes, the quartet of freak bettors, many of whom are making their appearance in La Crosse, will ride in state, while the losing two will push their victors in front of them with scores of hooting friends for audiences.

Henderson bet Erroi on Tuesday that if Wilson is re-elected to the presidency of the United States he will give him a free wheelbarrow ride from the corner of Fourth and Main streets to Pettibone park, across the Mississippi wagon bridge, and return. The bet is to be paid a week from today.

Beranek is taking the Wilson end of a similar bet with Hagen. The loser will push the winner from the corner of St. Paul and California streets to the county court house at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

VOTE OF 450,000 RECORD FOR STATE, IS THE PREDICTION

Polls at Milwaukee Have Hard Time Keeping Up with Long Lines of Waiting Balloters

SEE ALL RECORDS BROKEN

J. F. Donnelly Predicts 85 Per Cent of Vote Would Be Cast; Sees 40,000 Majority for Wilson

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 7.—A record vote was forecast for Wisconsin by political leaders here Tuesday. At 10:30 a statement was issued at the offices of the democratic state central committee that the Badger vote would run close to 450,000, an increase of 50,000 over 1912 presidential vote. At that time it was estimated that 20 per cent of the vote had been cast.

At one o'clock election experts predicted that Milwaukee's total vote run three to two in comparison with the 1912 presidential vote. They based their predictions on calls from precincts, asking for more ballots. In 1912 the average of fifty ballots were used at each precinct. At the present rate of voting, an average of 75 ballots per precinct will be cast.

At noon election officials declared that 28,338 votes had been cast in the city of Milwaukee, 1,429 more than cast up to the same hour in 1912.

Since the polls opened here there were long lines of men waiting to cast their ballots. Instead of diminishing, the lines lengthened until at 9 a. m. they were half again as long as they were at 6 o'clock. At 10 o'clock the polls commenced to make headway but there were always from ten to twelve voters waiting.

"This election will smash all Wisconsin voting records," said J. F. Donnelly.

Early Returns

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7.—The first available election returns in Kansas Tuesday came from twenty-five out of thirty-two precincts in Topeka, the incomplete count giving Hughes 1,389 and Wilson, 974. The double election boards used made it possible for the returns to be given out early.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 7.—Nine precincts completed up to ten o'clock, gave Hughes 378 votes and Wilson 329.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7.—At two o'clock Tuesday afternoon incomplete returns from 25 of Topeka's thirty-two precincts gave Hughes 1,708 and Wilson 1,227.

NORWELL, Mass., Nov. 7.—President Wilson ran well ahead of the state ticket here Tuesday, while Charles E. Hughes fell behind the republican state ticket. Wilson polled 107 votes and Hughes 179.

For governor, McCall, republican, 203; Mansfield, democrat, 74. Senator Lodge polled 199 votes in his effort for re-election against "Honey" Fitzgerald, democrat, 71.

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from sixteen out of twenty-six precincts gave Hughes 416 and Wilson, 880. For governor, Capper, republican, 680; and Landon, democrat, 512.

For eighth district congressman, Wilson, republican, 336; Ayres, democrat for re-election, 896.

Wichita normally republican.

MARSHFIELD, Mass., Nov. 7.—Hughes polled 210 votes here Tuesday, against Wilson's 96. In the race for governor, McCall, republican, polled 234 against Mansfield, democrat, 53. For senator, Lodge, republican, 228; Fitzgerald, democrat, 55.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 7.—Twenty-five precincts, all votes cast up to noon: Hughes, 2,740; Wilson, 1,751; Casper, 3,107; Landon, 1,123; Anthony, republican, for congress, 2,128; Corwine, democrat, 1,286; Dr. Eva Harding, independent, 928.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from nine precincts in New Bedford the first large Massachusetts city to report, show Hughes leading Wilson by 200 votes.

WILSON VOTES IN A FIRE ENGINE HOUSE, HUGHES IN LAUNDRY

PRESIDENT EARLY IN MORNING CASTS VOTE FOR HIMSELF

Sixteen Men, Three Autos, Four Hours and Fifty-four Gallons of Gasoline Are Used Up

BY ROBERT J. BENDER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 7.—It required sixteen men, three automobiles, four hours, and fifty-four gallons of gasoline to deliver President Wilson's vote for himself here Tuesday. The president with his body guard of secret service men and retinue of newspaper correspondents, made the trip from Shadow Lawn early in the morning and although it was only 9 o'clock when the president reached the polls, he was the fiftieth voter. The booth was in a fire engine house.

The president's arrival was quickly learned by residents here, and a big crowd of people gathered about the voting place to cheer the executive. He was given an ovation by Princeton students in passing through the streets of the city.

President Wilson received his ballot from R. H. Rose, a republican election official. Emerging from the booth after voting the straight democratic state ticket, the president shook hands with the election officials and took several out to introduce them to Mrs. Wilson, who waited in the White house automobile outside. The party left immediately for Shadow Lawn.

By a peculiar coincidence the president passed at the entrance to the fire engine house, T. J. Preston, Jr., who married Mrs. Grover Cleveland, widow of the last democratic president before Wilson.

The president and his entire official family were supremely confident. On his return to Shadow Lawn the executive planned to while away the afternoon with a round of golf, and tonight will receive returns at Shadow Lawn, remaining up until the trend shows what the American electorate have decided.

Around Asbury Park betting is even on the result.

DEAD MAN'S VOTE COUNTED

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Nov. 7.—One dead man's vote was counted here Tuesday. Before starting for Vermillion, S. D., by automobile, Clarence Peterson, salesman, deposited his ballot in the county auditor's office, under the law's absent voters' clause. Enroute, Peterson was killed. Although dead when the polls opened, his ballot was counted, because every provision of the law was met.

G. O. P. CANDIDATE VOTES BALLOT NUMBER THIRTEEN

Hughes Up Early to Cast Vote in in Dingy Laundry Room Three Blocks from the Astor

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Republican Candidate Charles Evans Hughes voted ballot number thirteen at 7:03 Tuesday morning in the Victoria laundry voting booth on Eighth avenue between Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth streets. He arose at 5:45, took an hour to dress and left the Astor hotel with Carl D. Sheppard, his publicity agent, and two detectives, about 6:50.

The governor walked the three blocks to the voting booth and returned. Only a few stragglers and a flock of newspapermen and movie operators were on hand as he went into the dingy little Eighth avenue building.

It was so early that the governor was on time to see the green grocers and fruit merchants placing their stock on display in their outside show-cases.

Just as he reached the street, through the ladies' entrance to the Astor, Clarence Schmalvel, former assemblyman from the republican twenty-seventh district, joined Hughes.

"This looks like a republican day," called the governor as he smiled broadly and shook hands.

The little party went at a brisk walk west on Forty-fifth street and around the corner to the dingy little laundry room.

The governor nodded to several policemen and attendants as he entered and went past counters piled high with soiled shirts and other linen, with here and there a hard-boiled variety ready again to dazzle the eye and fret the wearer.

There were five booths partitioned off with sheets that obviously had been borrowed from the Victoria clientele. The republican candidate stepped into the first one, and there, behind the sheets of Mrs. O'Hallahan or Larry Murphy, or some one, he voted the straight ticket.

Marshall Votes Early

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall cast his ballot shortly after ten o'clock. The vice-president went to the polling booth at Eleventh and Alabama streets in an automobile, accompanied by W. L. Elder, a friend.

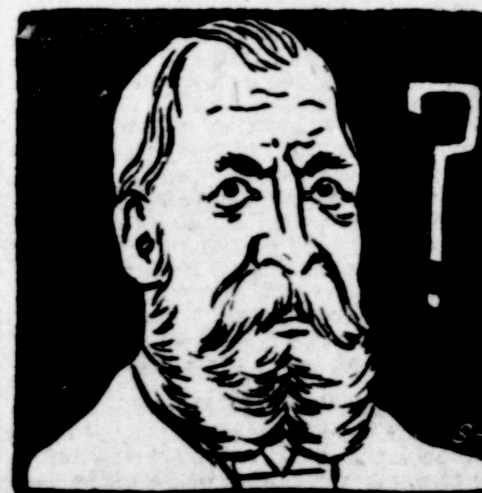

Fairbanks Nearly Loses Hat

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, republican candidate for vice-president, all but lost his hat when he voted the straight republican ticket. As he reached for the voting booth lever he continued talking to the crowd about the booth. He bumped his head against the top of the booth and his top piece went rolling.

EIGHT THOUSAND IS EARLY ESTIMATE OF VOTES TO BE CAST

Indications Are That La Crosse County Will Exceed All Records in Vote Tuesday

WARD SHY OF BALLOTS

Everywhere Big Vote Is Out Early in Spite of the Chilly Drizzle

Despite the chilly drizzle which saturated La Crosse county with the dawn of election day, indications at noon were that perhaps the heaviest vote ever cast in this section is being registered at the polls. From the opening of the election places at six o'clock in the morning there had been a steady stream of voters, and it appeared that the franchise of every male of voting age in La Crosse county will have been exercised before 8 o'clock in the evening, when the balloting is closed.

Whose Weather?

At the democratic headquarters the misty day was jubilantly hailed, according to tradition, as "democratic weather," but the republicans were heartily confident that it was not also republican. Weather, they asserted, is the smallest factor in the decision of a presidential election. Everyone turns out regardless, they declared.

Certainly it seemed at noon as if the presidential contest had paid no heed to the weatherman. From most of the precincts in the county the same report of heavy voting was received.

At the Eighth ward booth by 10:30 o'clock, the officials were beginning to be alarmed over their supply of ballots. With 450 voters registered in the ward, and many more presenting affidavits to make good their neglect to register, the officials made certain that the 400 ballots placed in the booth would be exhausted before the evening rush was over. They sent in a hurry call to the county clerk for more ballots.

More Than 8,000

It was estimated that the total of votes for the entire county would reach well over 8,000 the approximate figures of the last presidential vote in 1912. The total vote in the state campaign of 1914 was only 6,000.

A TRIBUNE representative who toured the precinct polling places in the city in the early hours of the day found that same story was told by officials in practically every booth—a big vote, out early. There was, of course, a let-up during the morning, but noon saw crowds of voters waiting for their turns at the booths, and a similar influx was expected at the supper hour. The following figures were collected:

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

"OLD PAPERS"

By OLIVE MARTIN

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"The first snow of the season!" Lorena looked out of the big window in the living room and watched the feathery flakes of white dusting the street and sidewalk. It had been growing steadily colder all morning and an east wind was blowing. She had had Mary light the grate and a big cheery fire was now roaring up the chimney.

"How time flies! Dear me, I'd no idea the month was so far along. I've been so busy with the campaign for the new baby hospital that I've lost track of the days." She turned to a calendar. "Goodness! It's the middle of November; next week will be Thanksgiving. Well, after I get the papers gathered and sold I'll have time to keep track of the days and get ready for Christmas."

They turned to the window again. "I wish those little boys would hurry with their wagons; it's after one now and there's so much to do."

But just then two figures with an express wagon came up the street and, further along, two more.

"Here they are now, bless their hearts, and now for work!"

In a few minutes a noisy little crowd was around the fire getting instructions.

"Tony you go up Salem street on the side with even numbers, and Mike take the other side. Seraphine take Kildoo street, both sides, it's so short, and Nicholas and Reuben and Patrick go around the Park. Go to the back doors and ask the people if they have any old papers they don't need—that the money they bring is for the new baby hospital and you'll take anything they have, newspapers and all."

"Yes!" exclaimed the chorus. "And when you come back I'll have a nice hot supper for you with all the goodies you can think of."

"Hurray!" they cried.

The crowd departed and Lorena looked fondly after her little settlement people. Her life was full of these things now, charity and good works, that kept her busy and her thoughts off the past. A half dozen years before a great tragedy had come into her life.

She returned to the library and picked up a photograph from the table.

"Dear, the last time I saw you was a day like this, but somehow it didn't seem cold like today. The world even without the sunshine was rosy and warm and glowing because I was with you. Can't you whisper to me through the mysterious spaces that separate us? Are you living or dead and why did you never send me any word when you went away? You looked that day as if you wanted to say something and couldn't. What was it, dear? Did I guess right? Did you really love me and what is that you tried to tell? Then why did you go away so far? They said your boat went down, but I—I don't believe it."

She set the picture gently in its place. In her eyes was the wonderful mystery that only a woman's eyes can hold.

The trio told to go around the park had their hands full. Here were houses of wealth whose caretakers were more than glad to get rid of the heavy piles of magazines stacked in attic and cellar. The little wagons were filled and two trips were made to Miss Lorena's big side porch where the contents were emptied in a heterogeneous mass that delighted her heart.

"Why, kiddies, it looks as if we were going to get a good many dollars for the little sick babies. I'll have to double your pay and put an extra lot of plums in the pudding. Come on inside now and warm your fingers before you start again. Why, what's this? It looks like a stack of sermons. Such a lot of writing and pounds and pounds of paper." She picked up a sheet and read. "The first memoir of Euler on the planetary perturbations was transmitted to the Academy of Science in 1747." She ran her eye over another. "The amount of the various inequalities of Jupiter and Saturn independently of the consideration of the eccentricities of their orbits..." and so on.

"It's all about stars! And it's old and dusty, an old manuscript somebody has thrown out. Had it type-written, most likely, but it looks like years of work. I think I'll take it in and look it over. I've always loved astronomy!"

The boys departed for another load and Lorena settled herself on the rug before the fire to look over her discovery. "Do you know, there is something about the way these t's are crossed a mile too high, and the way the tails of the g's and y's are neglected that reminds me of some one?" Her eyes wandered to the little silver frame on the table, and thence to her desk where a packet of letters lay tenderly cherished.

She turned back to her papers and picked up another. "Toward the south we see that the groups of stars which pass above the horizon—" The paragraph ended abruptly and the rest of the page was blank except for a footnote. "I'm tired and can't write any more, Lorena, dear, good night."

She sprang to her feet with a cry, clutching the paper tightly to her breast. Robert Galver, returning from his daily trip to the library, went into his study and opened a drawer of his desk. It was empty! Horrified he pulled out another. It was also empty. In fact every drawer was as innocent of paper as the Sahara Desert of fish. He strode hurriedly to the

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When constipated or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

kitchen. "Nanny, where are the manuscripts that were in my desk?"

"The what, sir?"

"My papers, the things I told you never to touch!"

Nanny reached for a corner of her apron.

"Why, sir, it's the darlin' babies. They came and said they needed the papers to make a hospital with and they were so old and dirty I thought you'd forgotten them and I gave them to the boys—"

"Nanny," he said, with quiet despair, "you've destroyed the work of five years by your disobedience. You know how I've worked on my book better than any one, how I've stayed up nights and given up everything for it, how I've even had the telephone taken out so I wouldn't be disturbed. May heaven forgive you, I can't. Next to one other thing it's been my whole life!"

"Oh, sir, I'm so sorry. I didn't know those old dusty papers was it. I'll put on my hat right away. Maybe I can find them."

He went to the door and looked down the street. The cold wind blew fine snow into his eyes, but he didn't feel either. His work, the study of years, was gone!

Suddenly he spied two small figures putting a wagon through the park. They might know of something. Without waiting for hat or coat he followed as fast as he could. "Hello, boys! Do you know any body that's collecting papers around here?"

"We are. Have you got any? We're after our third load."

"No, I'm afraid you got all I had. Where are you taking them?"

"To Miss Lorena Herrick's on Sycamore street."

"Lorena Herrick's?" he almost shouted. He stood looking dazedly into the shabby little wagon regardless of the curious eyes turned on him standing bareheaded in the snow. Lorena Herrick! The name that had been buried in his heart for years! Then suddenly the words took form and gazed up at him from a letter in the bottom of the otherwise empty wagon. There it lay, old, yellow and soiled, but the inscription on it stood out plain. Miss Lorena Herrick, 110 Sycamore street, Brewton, N. Y. The stamp was uncanceled and the writing his own. He picked it up bewildered.

"Where did this come from?"

"Don't know. Must a fallen out of something," came the answer.

"It's for Miss Herrick! I'll take it to her." He turned and strode away.

Lorena stood before the fire, the paper clasped tight to her breast. The early twilight was falling, but she had no light other than the great fire. "Robert, dear, good night!" she breathed softly over and over to the mysterious figures dancing in the flames.

The front door opened and closed and Robert himself came into the room, hatless, snow covered and very pale. Lorena drew back, almost falling, then suddenly broke into a nervous little laugh.

"You've come for this, of course!" She held out the paper.

"I've come, dear girl of my dreams, for you. Here is the letter which never was posted, absent minded beggar that I am. Am I too late, Lorena, after six years?"

For answer, she held up her face to his.

CONGRESS CONTROL BESIDES ELECTION OF PRESIDENT UP

Republicans to Try to Put In Enough New Members Into House and Senate to Control Legislation

CAMPAIGN A HOT ONE

Democratic Slogan, "He Kept Us Out of War," Answered with False Prosperity Cry of Republicans

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—On Tuesday about 18,000,000 citizens of the United States will select the 29th president and vice-president of the republic.

Although there are five national tickets in the field, and one lone vice-presidential aspirant, it is certain that only two of these tickets will figure very largely in the vote counting.

The 29th president, therefore, will be either Woodrow Wilson or Charles Evans Hughes—the first a democrat, the second, a republican.

The unsuccessful ones will be: Socialist: for president; Allan L. Benson, of New York, and for vice president; George R. Kirkpatrick, of New Jersey.

Prohibitionist; J. Frank Hanly, of Indiana and Ira Lambrith of Massachusetts.

Social Labor: Arthur E. Reimer, of Massachusetts, and Caleb Harrison, of Illinois.

Progressive: John M. Parker, of Louisiana, vice-presidential candidate.

While the presidential and vice-presidential candidates are struggling for supremacy, 68 men are seeking election to the United States Senate in a vote getting race of scarcely less importance. There are 35 vacancies to be filled in the upper house of the national legislature. Regardless of which side is successful in the presidential race, they must elect senators to hold majority in the upper house if they expect to put through their legislation. The democrats are now in the majority. The G. O. P. has set out to elect ten republican senators out of the 35 to be chosen, and republican chiefs Tuesday will scan with considerable anxiety the popular vote for senator in the 33 states where the senatorial race in importance, comes the voting for congressional nominees.

There are 436 members of the lower house to be elected, not counting territorial delegates. The present house of representatives shows a working majority for the democrats of 23 votes—counting 197 republicans, 6 progressives, one independent and one socialist as the minority, against 229 democrats.

Republicans hope to sweep this majority into the discard.

Rival Issues

Briefly summarized, the two great parties, will stand tomorrow for these great issues—and in this list are given only the outstanding issues:

Democrats:

"Wilson kept us out of war."

A vote for republicans is a vote for war.

Wilson stands for peace with honor and prosperity.

The tariff for revenue policy has proved its entire workableness.

Weakness of the administration's Mexican policy.

Warning of the chaos which will come after the European war, if the democratic tariff is maintained and Europe dumps her goods here in the race for commercial supremacy.

Broken promises by democracy as to protection of American citizens abroad; reduction of the cost of living; and as to economy and efficiency.

Watch Progressive Vote

Of most importance, in the minds of the leaders of the two great parties, is the swing which the progressive vote of four years ago will take Tuesday.

Of the trifle under 16,000,000 of popular votes cast in 1912, nearly 5,000,000 were for Roosevelt and Johnson, running on the "third ticket" under the progressive emblem. That five million of votes, delivered in one block, would be sufficient, if he conceded, to elect either Wilson or Hughes.

But leaders on both sides point out that the defections of 1912 were from both parties and in the four years which have passed away many of that five million have realigned themselves. The progressive split in June of this year, when Roosevelt sought to swing endorsement of the party he led in 1912 to Hughes, has brought claims from both republicans and democrats that the major part of the five million votes will be with them Tuesday. Many prominent progressive leaders have endorsed Wilson; possibly a slightly larger number have endorsed Hughes. How the rank and file will vote is likely to determine the election.

G. O. P. managers also think a powerful impression has been made in the "false prosperity" revelations which republican orators have so vigorously pounded home.

Democrats Grab Hyphen Issue

As to the "hyphen" vote—democratic leaders have sought to make campaign material out of the outspoken support by several "hyphenated" leaders of the republican candidates. Republican managers have steadfastly maintained complete ignorance of the attitude of the hyphenates—and have flatly denied any agreement of any kind whatsoever with any faction or group of naturalized Americans.

voting will be the part which will be played by women voters. In at least one state the women have an opportunity to decide the electoral vote of that state. In Illinois there are approximately 800,000 women registered and ready to vote for the first time on a presidential and vice-presidential candidate. In Montana a woman is running on the republican ticket for congress. In Washington and Oregon votes of feminine balloters may have a direct bearing on the way the states throw their elected figures.

EARLY RETURN OF THE DEUTSCHLAND

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 7.—So rapidly is Captain Koenig stowing rubber and nickel into the ribbed hull of the German submarine freighter Deutschland the sea-going man thought on Monday he will be ready for his homeward venture before a week.

MEXICAN COMMISSIONERS RETURN UNEXPECTEDLY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 7.—Mexican members of the American-Mexican peace commission returned here unexpectedly Monday, despite the fact that a week's adjournment in effect, and announced they will hold a series of daily conferences until they hear from the American group.

Their return led to the belief that they are whipping into shape an agreement on border matters, generally expected to be completed within a week or two.

HUGE ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—The New York Central railroad on Monday uncovered plans for the financing of improvements to total $19,995,000 when they sought authority for state utilities commissioners to issue $12,000,000 in trust certificates.

Dangers of Constipation and of Usual "Cures"

Stop up for an extended period one of the body's natural outlets and the consequences are serious indeed. Waste matter retained in the intestines, produces poisons which contaminate the entire system. Every organ in time becomes weakened and diseased. Auto-intoxication, dull headaches, mental depression, skin eruptions, inflammation and ulceration of the bowels, piles, appendicitis, cirrhosis of the liver, paralysis, nervous troubles—even insanity—are among the results of chronic constipation. No sufferer can afford to delay correcting such a condition.

But no one can afford to use drastic purgatives or cathartics. Anything which acts violently upon the bowels does more harm than good. It injures the membranous lining, it weakens the bowel muscle, in time absolutely incapacitating it. One dose may afford temporary relief, but soon you are constipated again, and must gradually increase the dose to secure the desired result.

If more people only knew it, there is a harmless product known as "Lax-Ola," which really aids Nature in overcoming constipation. Besides its mild, painless laxative action it has a beneficial tonic effect. It strengthens, instead of weakening, the intestinal wall. It is pleasant to take, does not disturb digestion, and it encourages the "laxative habit." Lax-Ola may be obtained from any drug list. A quarter's worth will do—Home Hygiene.

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE

(By Niksch)

ZUNGERU

Zungeru is the home of the greatest despot in the world. Compared to him, the kaiser of Germany and the Czar of Russia are but political puppets bullied by their peoples. He has no advisers except those whom he chooses to consult; no one may enter or leave Zungeru without his special consent; and he settles all matters pertaining to his domain from the amount of game that may be shot for breakfast to the fate of the latest cannibal criminal. Such is the absolute monarch of Zungeru, an energetic, blonde young Briton—governor of Northern Nigeria.

As the capital of an absolute monarchy, however, Zungeru does not live up to its expectations. It consists of a few simple bungalows sprinkled among the trees and brush of the Nigerian jungle and surrounded by good gravel roads, ten to thirty feet wide, affording excellent facilities for cyclists, have been laid out by the prisoners of the colony, but aside from these Zungeru is still very primitive. The monarch, also, is something of a disappointment so far as monarchs go. His bungalow is picturesque, but very small, and his throne is a straightback chair the bottom of which is padded with a folded horse blanket while his motor car is a vehicle of ancient design, that lumbers along the new roads, making a noise like a steam engine and scaring the surprised but admiring natives.

Every time a visitor arrives in Zungeru the governor and his governing assistants are extremely embarrassed; for the accommodations of Zungeru are distinctly limited. There are barely enough houses to go around for all the population, which consists of seventy British officials, two hundred native officials and four members of the staff on the Niger company. Four so-called rest houses, with mud floors and thatched roofs, have been provided for visitors who occasionally arrive from other parts of the colony, but they must supply their own furniture, groceries and cooking utensils. Hence, it is not an uncommon occurrence to find the royal guest of honor, no less a personage than the president of a large mining company who in London dines at the Ritz and Carlton, spending the night in a rickety steamer chair and covered by a dingy steamer rug hastily gathered together by the governor of Nigeria.

BELIEVE $10,000,000 WILL CHANGE HANDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 will change hands over the election, if estimates of betting experts here and in the larger cities Monday are correct.

Commissioners here figured that $3,000,000 to $6,000,000 will be in New York's total wagering while close to $2,500,000 was reported placed in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Indianapolis with considerable unrecorded betting in those places and elsewhere.

SEVEN KILLED WHEN TRAIN RUNS AWAY

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 7.—Seven trainmen dead, four slightly injured, forty-seven loaded cars and five freight engines demolished, was the toll taken when an engineer lost control of a train of sixty cars on the Pennsylvania railroad near the top of the Allegheny mountains Monday and the runaway dashed into four empty engines standing on the "Y" switches near Hollidaysburg. The escape of a number of trainmen was miraculous.

Prepare This for a Bad Cough—It's Fine

Cheaply and Easily Made, but Does the Work Quickly.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations, can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 54 cents and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective, pleasant tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiaecol and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The fact that a large number of women in the war zone are rendering valuable service as wireless operators, has emphasized the fact that wireless telegraphy is a vocation to which women can easily adapt themselves. Miss Kathleen Parkin of San Rafael, Cal., recently received a first grade radio operator's license from the United States government. She is only fifteen years old and in her third year of high school. Miss Gracie Parker of Florida, is the first woman to act as universal operator. She is in charge of the radio set on the Clyde liner Mohawk. When the navy department recently issued its

A teacher in the primary department had been holding forth on the three great divisions of nature—the animal, the vegetable, the mineral. When she had finished she put this question:

"Who can tell me what is the highest form of animal life?"

A little girl bounced from her seat and with the certainty of being right, exclaimed:

"The giraffe, mum."

Do women realize that they already vote in the most effective way on important questions?

Every time a woman buys an article it is a vote, backed by money, for that article, a sincere approval of its merits.

So women have been voting on the question of health. When they have suffered from woman's ailments their vote has been overwhelming for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which they have bought and used with satisfaction.

"He was divorced from his first wife and separated from his second," said Mrs. Fisher, not clear now what she was saying and driven to falsehood by the strained encouragement on the faces around her.

"Dear aunt," said Van Nuyl hastily, "my paper, The Voice of the People, is going to institute a nationwide movement of back to the home."

Cally burst into tears.

The old lady turned and saw her for the first time. "My dear, my dear," she pleaded in an evident distress.

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

• • • DAILY DEAN • • •

"One of the great benefits which motion pictures will confer on the American public is the habit of seriousness."

Bertha Kalich, one of the foremost tragediennes of the American drama, believes this sincerely. "The one thing that keeps the American stage and screen from becoming a greater influence for higher art is the eternal habit of humor which audiences insist on practicing, says the star. It is this deterrent which motion pictures will help to overcome. "Often I think I cannot understand the American character," says Madame Kalich. "Though serious, it is half ashamed of its seriousness, and is afraid of being taken at a disadvantage. It has a sense of humor which frequently interferes with its best impulses, atrophies, limits and impedes."

Madame Kalich believes that dramatic art should dig beneath the surface. It should not necessarily seek the unusual and the accidental, but it should point out the deeper meaning of the ordinary human existence. To gain the support of the public, she thinks, it must be exciting and significant to everybody who desires the deeper pleasure.

Derision

"Romeo and Juliet," in both movie productions, shows characters in the plot expressing derision of others by "biting their thumbs at them." Ohio censors make fine distinctions. They still busily bar an equally ancient gesture described as "thumbing the nose."

One may bite one's thumb in the movies, it appears, but one must not thumb one's nose.

At Concord, Mass., where some of the scenes of "The Heart of a Hero" were photographed for the World Film Corporation, the following inscription was found by Robert Warwick upon a moss-grown tablet: "At this well April 19, 1775, James Hayward, of Acton, met a British soldier, who, raising his gun said: 'You are a dead man.' 'So are you,' replied Hayward. Both fired. The soldier was instantly killed and Hayward mortally wounded."

"The Madness of Helen," a new World Film play, in which Ethel

Bertha Kalich.

Clayton and Carlyle Blackwell have the star roles, contains certain "double exposure" effects which are said by experts to be entirely without precedent. The hero of this screen drama is a literary man and gets $1,000 apiece for his short stories, showing that he is "some literary man."

"Bought and Paid For," which has been screened by the World-Brady interests, has Alice Brady as its star player. Supporting Miss Brady are Montagu Love, Allen Atwell, Joseph Drake and others. The picture version of this play is said to be even more effective than the spoken drama.

November 13 is the release date of the next Chaplin feature. Charlie is planning to make us laugh more than ever in "Behind the Screen." It is a sketch of life in a modern picture studio.

Jens Davidson of Westby was a recent visitor in the city.

Chris Gerlach of Viola visited Viroqua friends the latter part of the week.

Mrs. John R. Spillum recently entertained friends at her home just north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Fischer entertained friends and relatives at dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thompson of Readstown were visitors in the city Sunday.

HARVEST FESTIVAL COMING EVENT AT SPRING GROVE

SPRING GROVE, Minn.—(Special.)—The church auxiliary will meet in the church parlors Thursday evening, November 9, and the following will entertain: Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Scofield, Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Ostlie, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gilbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vick, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Gubrud, Miss Caroline Ostlie, Miss Inga Fladager and Miss Lucille Weida. A harvest festival program is being arranged by the program committee and is sure to be interesting.

Many Confirmed
Twenty-four boys and seventeen girls were confirmed here Sunday by the pastor. The weather was exceedingly bad but the church was filled.

Organ Recital
Tuesday, November 21, there will be an organ recital in the church, given by Edward Rechlin of New York city. Mr. Rechlin has studied under Alexander Guilman and Ch. M. Widor, the world's greatest organists. Mr. Rechlin is traveling for the purpose of showing the act in church music and takes a free will offering to defray his expenses.

Wireless Completed
A. C. Scofield has just completed a wireless outfit which he has been making for several months and is sending and receiving signals. Norvin Ristey and Theodore Scofield are also erecting wireless stations which will be ready to operate in a short time.

The Newhouse Lumber company presented "A Concrete Romance" in addition to the regular show at Ristey's opera house Saturday evening which was a very pleasing photodrama.

Martin Martins passed away here suddenly Tuesday morning from heart failure. Mr. Martins was apparently in good health upon retiring Monday evening. Deputy Coroner John Potter and County Attorney Dahle deemed it not necessary to hold an inquest.

M. J. Lamberton, candidate for congress, spoke here on the street this week, giving an interesting talk on the democratic views.

Mr. Keen is again at the Glassrud & Valler meat market as blockman. The Equity Shipping association shipped in a carload of potatoes at one and a half dollars a bushel Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Kjerne have returned from a short trip through Montana.

Knut Folkedal returned the latter part of the week from North Dakota, where he spent the summer.

Mr. C. J. Scofield and family and Mrs. A. C. Scofield and children autoed to the home of C. J. Wheaton and family Sunday.

E. O. Clauson is having the building on Main street which he purchased recently, moved between the harness shop and John Walhus' store. Mr. Clauson intends to run a moving picture theater upstairs and in the basement a bowling alley.

The Hallowsen culprits who demolished the school swings on the high school playgrounds and other property here, have a very good chance to pay a neat fine. The school board is taking action on the matter. Some of the Caledonia boys wish they had stayed home this certain evening.

Mr. Whitbeck and daughter of Caledonia are callers here Saturday. Miss Hanna Gaare will entertain the Dorcas Young Ladies' society Tuesday evening.

No evening services were held in the church here Sunday evening.

Mrs. M. S. Nelson and Mrs. O. N. Onsgard entertained the Ladies' Aid in the church parlors Friday afternoon.

Ole Gubrud has recently returned from Colorado Springs and says that his health is very much improved.

RECORD VOTE IN CHICAGO EXPECTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Indications are that a record vote will be cast in Chicago Tuesday. Precincts all over the city are swamping the election commissioners with calls for additional ballot boxes. Party workers predicted 725,000 votes would be cast in Chicago alone and that Cook county totals would go to 812,000.

Before the polls opened at 6 a. m. workmen formed long lines at polling places. Few women appeared early, but they were expected to turn out in large numbers in the afternoon.

Party managers in Illinois, a pivotal state, admit they are up in the air over the woman's vote. Casting 650,000 ballots, the fair sex can swing the state's twenty-nine electoral votes as they please—and politicians are afraid they will do it just as they please.

Part of the feminine vote will follow that of husbands, but how the votes of thousands of working-women and professional women will do is completely in the dark.

DRYS POST SPIES
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Determined to get every vote that is coming to them, prohibitionists stationed 1,500 workers at the polls here Tuesday to watch for crooked work.

PRESBYTERIANS BURY PROMINENT RUSHFORD CITIZEN

RUSHFORD, Minn.—(Special.)—The auditorium and parlors of the Rushford Presbyterian church held a large congregation Sunday afternoon, when the friends of the late B. H. Moore gathered there to express their esteem for the one who so recently had worshiped in that church with them. Rev. J. C. Bantly took charge of the services, a quartette rendering three hymns. Numerous floral tributes were in evidence.

A large number followed the remains to their last resting place in Oak Grove cemetery, northwest of this city, where also rest Mr. Moore's father and sister, who passed beyond a number of years ago.

Plan Program
The ever alert ladies of the local W. C. T. U. have in store for the public another of their good meetings, when on Nov. 17 there will be heard at the Rushford Presbyterian church Mrs. Hanson of Minneapolis.

On the afternoon of that day Mrs. Hanson will speak at 3 o'clock to women only; her theme being one which should interest every mother who possesses a daughter, "What I told My Daughter," being a straightforward talk but with no semblance of the sensational. In the evening she will speak upon the topic "Traps," this meeting being open to all. This meeting will open at 8 o'clock sharp and special music will be heard. No admission will be charged for either meeting, but a ten-cent lunch will be served at the close of the afternoon program and a free-will offering taken at the evening meeting.

PROMINENT POLES SEE A STRING TO POLAND ANTONOMY

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Thousands of Poles who came here to escape the iron heel of Russia in their native land heard with interest of the plan of the central powers to restore Poland as a nation. But their leaders either looked with open suspicion or preferred to withhold judgment on the latest move of Germany and Austria.

"Germany will not give Poland anything unless there is a string tied to it," said Miss Emily Matieralski of the Polish Women's alliance.

Stanley Creszesski of the Polish National alliance, said the central powers expected to gain important ends by establishing a little kingdom made up of provinces captured from Russia. "They probably intend to give this little kingdom a ruler from the Hapsburg or Hohenzollern family—a small price to pay for the support of 20,000,000 poles in this war," he said.

Other leaders expressed similar views.

HAIR COMING OUT?
Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

DO YOU THINK ONIONS HIGH? Watch Where They Go

The situation in onions this season has had no equal in many years. There is about thirty per cent as many as there were a year ago at this time. With the demand coming from all quarters, it is any wonder that the market is strong at $3.50 per cwt. It is a practical certainty that onions will not only go higher, but MUCH higher. Buy at the prevailing price, when you need a supply; if you wait it will cost you money; those who have delayed in the past realize this. Same on Potatoes, Cabbage and Apples.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brow" mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—a torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and really pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BIG SUM SECURED BY TOMAH FROM BUCKLEY ESTATE

William Gleiss Returns from Idaho Where He Secured Funds Belonging to the City

TOMAH, Wis.—(Special.)—William Gleiss has returned from Idaho, where he went in behalf of Tomah's interest in the Buckley estate.

Mr. Gleiss reports that his collection will be $9,159.37 from outstanding notes and mortgages belonging to the estate inherited by the city of Tomah.

Before this time Tomah has collected $2,810.53 and this sum has accumulated interest up to the amount of $112.42, which makes a total of $12,082.32, which the city will receive.

This money was left with the understanding that it must be used either for a library or a public playground. Six thousand two hundred dollars has been used for the library, and the remaining money will go into a city certificate until further plans are made for its use.

Mr. and Mrs. Schulze Today Celebrate 57th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schulze, 1018 Denton street, are celebrating the fifty-seventh anniversary of their marriage. It was a quiet celebration, for Mrs. Schulze has been ill for some months past, but the occasion is one of great family rejoicing. Rev. J. L. Panzlau, pastor of the First German Methodist church, who officiated at the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Schulze in 1909, was among the first to tender his congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Schulze were married in Saxony November 7, 1859. They came to the United States and settled in La Crosse on June 6, 1884. One of the most interesting stories in the memory of the aged couple is of that journey over-seas. It took them thirty-two days to make the crossing which swift vessels now make in less than a week.

Today's festivities are not without a tinge of sadness, for two sons who were present at the observance of the golden wedding died in 1915. Alderman Robert Schulze of the north side and Emil Schulze, for many years editor of the Arcadia Aegis, four children were with them for the anniversary, however, Bernard, Ernest and Paul, all prominent business men in La Crosse, and Mrs. Charles Breit of Minneapolis.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

"A SUCCESSFUL MEDICINE DOING A GREAT AMOUNT OF GOOD" IS SAID OF TANLAC

Mrs. J. Lebel of 1025 Christiana street, Green Bay, said:

"I am now sixty-seven years old but I feel just as young as I ever did since Tanlac fixed me up."

"I was all run down and was so weak that at times I could not do my work. I would get such frightful dizzy spells if I got up suddenly I was afraid I would fall. On wash day I would have to sit down and rest ever once in a while before I could finish my work. My appetite was so poor that I did not care to eat."

"My sister, Mrs. L. Cook, living at 1601 Chestnut, advised me to take Tanlac. She said she had taken it with such wonderful results, she knew it would do me good. She was quite right. I think Tanlac is a successful medicine and is doing a great amount of good."

"I have improved in every way. My appetite is splendid and I feel strong and hearty for one of my age. I do not have those dizzy spells any more and I go around at my housework without ever thinking of being tired or stopping to rest. I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Tanlac to others."

Mr. Henderson, the Tanlac representative, will be glad to have you call on him at C. A. Begun's Drug Store in the Majestic Building, where Tanlac is sold exclusively here.

Tanlac can also be obtained from Geo. H. Seidel at Sparta.

INVESTIGATION COMING

Voting in Pivotal States in the Middle West Under Investigation of Government
Agents

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Wholesale vote investigations will be started by federal authorities here Wednesday following discovery of illegalities at the polls Tuesday.

Confessions in which prominent politicians are named are said to be in the hands of federal inspectors following minor arrests. A grand jury may be called.

To check further crookedness, Hinton G. Clabaugh, federal inspector here, has given all available information to the city and county authorities and urged them to action.
H. R. Harris, assistant United States district attorney, went to one predict of the 23rd ward, Mayor Thompson's ward, seven minutes before the polls opened at 6 a. m., and he had found ballots already in the box.

Election judges explained that several workmen hurrying to work were allowed to vote before the opening time. Every vote cast in the precinct may be thrown out.

Other irregularities were reported in the Second, Third, Eighteenth and Twenty-first wards where large numbers of negroes and foreigners are registered. Money was passed, according to reported statements of persons arrested in these wards.

Watch Political States

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—
The federal government gave special attention to voting in the middle west
"pivotal" states Tuesday to prevent fraud. Although Frank C. Daily, special assistant United States district attorney, in charge of this investigation, refused to be interviewed, he admitted that he had been busy all day in connection with his investigations.

Reports from Cleveland and Detroit were that special agents of the government were watching the polls closely, in an attempt to spot election frauds, if any.

NO DECISION ON OLD SITE REACHED AT SPECIAL MEET

Reconsideration Proves to Be Only Sending Matter Back to Committee and Fight Impends

Despite the special meeting of the common council called Monday night to reconsider the question, the site of the Badger Oil company's new plant remains unsettled. The council voted to reconsider the ordinance granting the foot of Fifth street site to the concern, but instead of revoking the permit or passing another ordinance relating to the new proposed site at Jackson street and the State road, referred it to committees and adjourning.

Just what the upshot of the matter will be remains to be seen. There was considerable opposition to repealing the Fifth street ordinance, although several of the aldermen who voted for it at the last regular meeting indicated that they wanted to change their votes.

It is believed that the merits of the two sites will be threshed out in committee, and reported to the council
Friday night, at the regular November meeting. That the Fifth street site has not been definitely abandoned, however, was the construction placed upon last night's action, particularly in view of the fact that Alderman William Torrance promised a vigorous fight on the alternative site on Jackson street.

"That is in the heart of the residence district," Mr. Torrance declared. "I will never consent to putting oil tanks there."

After the council meeting had adjourning, Alderman B. C. Smith, chairman of the finance committee, convoked a budget meeting of committees, and several projects were discussed. It was decided to put $1,500 in the budget for a sewer cleaning machine. The proposal to change the outlet of the Logan street sewer south of Clinton street, so that a bath may be placed in the city property north of Copeland park in Black river, was held up at the suggestion of Alderman Funk, who said the park board had a bath proposition to submit to the council which should be heard before taking action.

Mr. Funk indicated that the bath proposition to be proposed by the park commission is the Black river recreation pier project developed by W. S. Woods.

NATION'S RECORD VOTE IS CAST IN EARLY INDICATION

more silent than ever before. Since the campaign opened about August 10, there have been half a dozen different "trends" to public sentiment, overlapping at times. Both sides were claiming the benefit of such a current Tuesday.

The most unusual eleventh hour development in connection with the election was in the betting. Wall street prides itself on having always picked a winner. Up until midnight the odds have favored Hughes. But they opened Tuesday with less advantage to the republican nominee—almost at even money. At the Waldorf Tex Rickard, discharging for the once the role of fight promoter to act as betting commissioner, couldn't place money except at even odds.
More republican cash was in evidence than democratic. It was estimated that at least $7,000,000 will change hands on the verdict of the voters—probably the largest sum that has ever been wagered on a presidential election.

But if odds here were slightly in favor of Hughes, messages from certain mid-west cities indicated a complete reversal. In Cleveland for instance, betting commissioners there said Wilson ruled the favorite.

The American people may expect first complete city returns from two or three small hamlets in Massachusetts, which have had the proud distinction of being first to be mentioned in half a dozen elections.

In the pivotal state of New York, first returns are expected from Buffalo, where voting machines are expected to give the result immediately after the polls close at 5 o'clock.

Dry Fear Frauds

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—
"Dry" leaners feared election frauds in Missouri Tuesday and were on the job early watching polling places for illegal voting.

Those favoring the prohibition amendment in Missouri declare that if the voting is legal and the votes are counted Missouri will go dry by a safe margin. The "wets" expect to get nearly from 100,000 to 200,000.

Women Vote in Kansas

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—With a quarter of a million Kansas women voting for president for the first time, campaign managers estimated that 650,000 Kansans would vote at Tuesday's election, a new high record for the state.

Dry Vote in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.— Under clear skies, California was deciding on Tuesday whether Wilson or Hughes will receive, and the state's thirteen electoral votes and whether the state will go into the "dry" column. An unusually heavy early vote was cast.

Owing to rumors of possible election frauds, the San Francisco grand jury remained in session all day. It was predicted an 80 per cent poll will be cast here.

Chicago Records Smashed
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—All records for heavy voting here were smashed with a total vote of 650,000 cast at

DRIVE AMERICANS
OUT OF CHIHUAHUA

Only Four Americans Remain

MINERS TOLD TO FLEE

Anxiety for Safety of Americans in Parral Lessened by Reports They Have Left for Big Bend

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 7.—Only four Americans remained in Chihuahua City Tuesday. From every part of the state Americans and other foreigners are flocking to the border, following reported atrocities by the Villista bandits. The entire portion of Chihuahua state west and south of the capital is dominated and overrun by Villa followers.

Mining companies with offices here, were sending messages to their few remaining employees to flee Mexico immediately.

Anxiety for the safety of the ten Americans in Parral was lessened by additional reports from refugees that it was believed they started for the border in the Big Bend district of Texas.

Refugees from Chihuahua City arriving here Monday night said there were no new indications when they left that the city was about to be evacuated by General Trevino with his Carranzista forces.

Alarmed by reports of the impending evacuation of the Chihuahua capital by General Trevino, the foreign consuls in that city waited upon him in a body to ascertain the facts. The de facto commander assured them he had no intention of abandoning the city but on the contrary was preparing for a fight. Despite this assurance, every foreigner who can reach the railway is coming to Juarez.

From many sources United States government officials have obtained reports that Villa's forces now number more than 4,000 men, split into many bands in west and south Chihuahua state.

Official admission of the evacuation of Parral by General Herrera's Carranzista command was continued in a bulletin issued at Chihuahua City in which it was stated that Herrera was "concentrating his troops near Escalon to meet other generals."

VOTE OF 450,000
RECORD FOR STATE
IS THE PREDICTION

nely, chief of the Wisconsin democratic speakers bureau.

"I believe that at least 85 per cent of the vote will be cast. Wilson will win the state anywhere from a majority of 40,000 up."

At socialist headquarters they estimated that between 80 and 85 per cent of the total registration would be cast.

Election of Socialist. Candidates
W. R. Gaylord and Victor L. Berger, for congress in the Fourth and Fifth districts respectively, and Winfield Zabel for district attorney of Milwaukee county, were claimed by S. W.
Renfeld, secretary of the Wisconsin socialist party. He estimated that the socialist vote in the state would be about 450,000. The socialist vote in 1912 was 33,000.

Perfect weather prevailed. A light breeze cleared a foggy atmosphere here and political workers had an ideal day. Same weather conditions were reported from downstate.

Record in Madison

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—An average of ten out of fourteen voting precincts in this city shows that thirty per cent of the normal vote had been cast by 11 o'clock. This record is unprecedented. In 1912 a similar average showed less than 20 per cent of the vote shortly before noon.

WISCONSIN LOVED AT SHEBOYGAN

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Nov. 7.—Unprecedented voting was marred here when at noon it was estimated that more than half the total vote had been cast.

Beloit Predicts Record

BELOIT, Wis., Nov. 7.—Voting records for this city will be smashed, it was forecasted by local election officials when shortly after noon it was reported that 55 per cent of the vote had been cast.

Heavy Poll in Wausau

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 7.—Clear weather brought out a heavy poll and it is believed this election day's vote will be bigger than the 1912 vote.

Appletonians Out Early

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 7.—Voters here cast their ballots early. The ballots cast thus far are heavier than those cast in the 1912 election.

Big Polling in Fondy

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 7.—
With both democratic and republican leaders claiming victories amounting to landslides, Fond du Lac voters to a man exercised their franchise.
The vote was very heavy.

CONFESSES TO SLAYING SEDUCER

Little Falls, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Mike Masco and his wife confessed Tuesday the police and county prosecutor Ward say, to the murder of Rosario Ciprotti, whose body was found cut to pieces and jammed into a trunk which had been thrown into a dump.

Mrs. Masco, the authorities declared, confessed Masco found Ciprotti with her in the Masco home and immediately shot the intruder. She says Masco then threatened her with death unless she helped him cut up the body. A cross-cut saw was used to saw the body into sections which would go into the truck, she told the officers. Masco, it is said, confessed when confronted with his wife's statement, said he wheeled the body to the dump in a wheelbarrow.

SCHOOL BOARD TO ASK $31,000 FOR
WASHBURN REPAIRS

Architects' Plans and Estimates
Are Approved and Will Be Submitted to Council

An appropriation of $31,000 will be asked of the city council for the repair of the Washburn school at Eighth and Main streets, it was decided at a meeting of the board of education Monday evening. The plans of Andrew Roth, architect engaged by the board to go over the building and outline the repairs necessary to bring it up to standard, were approved, and will be submitted together with estimates of the cost, to the council.

Whether the work will be done in the coming year depends upon the action of the council in preparing the annual budget. It was indicated at a committee meeting of councilmen held Monday evening that the city fathers do not consider the need pressing, and that the bulk of the repairs recommended will be postponed for a year.

The board of education last night appropriated $200 to complete the domestic science department in the Lincoln school. A report showing attendance of 4,480 during the past month was read by Superintendent B.
E. McCormick.

HANLY CASTS VOTE
IN VACANT HOUSE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—
J. Frank Hanly, prohibitionist candidate for president cast his ballot shortly after 8:15. He voted in a vacant house between Meridian and Vincennes streets, on Twenty-first street. There was a fair crowd around the polling booth when the presidential candidate approached.
He waited in line for a few minutes and then cast ballot No. 32.

FOUR POUND TROUT IS EXHIBITED ON MARKET SQUARE

What is believed to be one of the largest specimens of brook trout ever exhibited in La Crosse was brought to the market square on Tuesday by Hurley Egan, 908 South tenth street. The fish was more than two feet long, and weighed four and a quarter pounds when taken from the water.

The fish was caught in the hatchery ponds of Charles Shorey, at Ce-noa, Wis. Egan said that he had spent the early morning hours for a week angling for the big fellow before he eventually swallowed the hook-concealing worm.

WILSON WINS IN HAMILTON SCHOOL

Woodrow Wilson was elected by a plurality of 2 to 1 by students of the third to eighth grades of the Hamilton school in a straw vote on Tuesday. The vote was 189 to 75.
There were seven socialists.

Children of the seventh and eighth grades of the Logan school, North La Crosse, elected Wilson. Their vote was 109 for Wilson and 73 for Hughes.

SPARTA MERCHANT BRINGS BRIDE FROM SHEBOYGAN TO HOME

Harry W. Mitchell Is Married to Miss Emily Erdman Saturday Evening; to Reside in Sparta

GIFTS FOR SOLDIERS Are to Be Sent by Spartans to Monroe County Boys on the Border for Thanksgiving

SPARTA, Wis.—(Special).—Harry W. Mitchell, manager of the Continental Stores company store in Sparta, brought his bride to this city Sunday evening and they will make their home in Ernest Schmalz's residence on East Pearl street. Mr. Mitchell was married Saturday night to Miss Emily Erdman in Sheboygan, at the bride's home.

Silver Wedding
About fifty relatives and friends from Sparta and vicinity, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones in Coles Valley Saturday evening to help them celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Lunch was served at eleven o'clock. The party was in every respect a very enjoyable affair.

Those from Sparta, who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. David L. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. E. L. Pugh from Watertown, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lloyd, Mrs. Grace Jones, Miss Bertha Paulson, Miss Nell Jones, Ed. Jones and son, Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones, Mrs. Belle Davis and Mr. William M. Jones.

Thanksgiving for Soldiers
The ladies of the city are planning to send the holiday cheer to the members of Company L on the border, in the form of boxes of delicacies to each individual soldier. This is a project that should appeal to everybody in Sparta and it is hoped a large number will respond generously with contributions. Gifts of candy, cakes, cookies, cigars, jells and preserves will be gratefully received by the committee in charge. Those who wish to contribute will kindly leave their names at the Geo. Seidell drug store within the next week.

It is planned to send the box a week before Thanksgiving, that it may have ample time to reach its destination. Those who wish to send boxes for individuals may do so and these can be packed in the large box if the committee is notified.

Buttermakers Meet
The State Buttermakers' association will meet in Sparta December 6, 7 and 8 and it will be the largest convention ever held here. The delegates will be guests of the Advancement association, but it will need help from the citizens in entertaining so large a company.

It is expected that the hotels and restaurants will be able to feed them but their lodging room is limited and the association asks that those who can help entertain the visitors will hand their names and addresses to the secretary, Harley W. Jefferson, as soon as possible.

W. C. T. U.
The W. C. T. U. will meet in Temple hall Nov. 8 at 3 p. m. Program: "Our Nation's School of Vice," leader, Mrs. Mary Gibbon. There will be a ten cent picnic supper to help raise the "mile of dimes" for W. C. T. U. work. Everyone is invited. Come and bring your families and your basket.

Local and Personal
About three hundred people went from Sparta to Tomah Saturday to witness the Sparta-Tomah football game, which resulted in a score of 49 to 0 in favor of Tomah. Among those who attended the game were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield, Robert Canfield and family, W. T. Jefferson and son, Earl, and Miss Salie Jefferson, Miss Thelma Fanning, Mrs. R. A. Richards, Mrs. Hinton. This was Sparta's first defeat this year.

New up-to-date seats have been put in the new Milwaukee depot at Sparta this past week and mirrors and toilet accessories have been added for the comfort of the weary traveler.

Mrs. Lou Phillips will go to Milwaukee Wednesday to attend the State Federation of clubs, going as a delegate from the Home Economics club of Sparta.

The parents'-teachers' meeting held in the city hall Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock was a very enjoyable affair. The children gave some entertaining numbers illustrating their work and there was a short discussion on "How the parents can help the child at home."

Friends of Miss Caroline Harris, formerly a resident of Sparta will be pleased to hear of her pleasant situation as dean of Columbia college on Michigan avenue in Chicago. It is a school for girls and Miss Harris has been in charge for the past month.

Mrs. James Snedden came last week from Saginaw, Mich., where her husband is located, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Olin. Mr. and Mrs. George Derringer of Minneapolis, came Saturday night for a short visit with relatives, all of whom enjoyed a family dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer, who expect soon to depart for their winter's sojourn in the South. James Merrill, who travels for a lumber company, has been visiting at home the past few days.

Miss Marie Leyden of Baraboo, was a guest of relatives in the city last week.

Dr. Spencer Beebe has been in Chicago several days on business.

Mrs. Will Merrill of Grand Rapids, Wis., is a guest at the L. D. Merrill home on Water street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Canfield and son, Edward, will leave Tuesday

"GET RIVER FALLS" THE ONLY SPIRIT AT NORMAL SCHOOL

La Crosse Winning Would Tie with Falls and Stevens Point for Conference Championship

"Get River Falls" is the slogan abroad at the normal school this week as student opinion is becoming concentrated on the outcome of the struggle of Friday when Captain Miller takes his warriors north for the critical game of the season in the northern section of the state conference.

Should La Crosse be the visitors this week, there would exist a triple tie for the championship of the north between Stevens Point, River Falls and La Crosse.

Although the strong Stevens Point aggregation was defeated by the Falls men by a 7-0 score, the Pointers, it is conceded, have the strongest eleven so Coach Sputh and Keeler feel confident that they have a fair chance at a win.

Leaving out of consideration Grausnick's injury, the normal team is in fair condition for their tussle, having almost completely recovered from their minor injuries secured in the Stevens Point game. Benjamin, who was knocked out early in the contest, is back in the lineup and probably will be able to play on Friday. Dean is not in the best of condition but Lyons, who has been shifted from the seconds, is showing up well with the firsts and back field in case Dean is not able to start.

A Job in Sight

The fact that River Falls was victorious over Stevens Point, which in turn defeated La Crosse, would indicate that the normal team will have the hardest problem of the season on their hands this week. That the Falls are not weakening is shown by their 54-0 defeat of the St. Mary's eleven which is reported reasonably strong this season. Coach Swenson had a majority of his last year's aggregation on hand at the beginning of the year, including one of the Eggebrecht brothers. The River Falls normal won the championship of the northern section in 1915.

Plead for Victory

Other than the northern championship problem, there is a more deep-seated controversy to be settled. Every year since football was instituted at La Crosse, the local normal has been forced to bow in defeat before

EDGERTON IS ONLY LA CROSSE RIVAL FOR STATE TITLE

All Milwaukee Teams Eliminated from Running for Premier Honors of the State

With only Edgerton left to claim the state championship in conjunction with La Crosse high school, the local institution is now on the pinnacle of glory in the football world, having been undefeated for the past three seasons. The defeat of River Falls by a 13 to 0 score and South Division's beating at the hands of North Division Milwaukee eliminated all the Cream City teams from the race this year. Edgerton is one touchdown better than North Division Milwaukee but her goal line was crossed in this fray which took place at the beginning of this season. North demonstrated that she is one touchdown better than Riverside; beating the orange and black this year before Coach Kahle had all the cogs in his last machine in good running order. However, the game was close, North scoring three touchdowns to Riverside's two. La Crosse defeated Riverside at the height of her development by two touchdowns. This places Coach Bell's men on a par with Edgerton although they beat a much better team.

THE HASKIN LETTER

The Plague Mysterious

Science Detectives and Riot Squads Are Out on Trail of Dread Polio, the Infant Scurge.

By Frederic J. Haskin

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. The epidemic of infantile paralysis here has fallen off to a few cases a day, but the campaign against the disease has not relaxed a whit. In the office of the United States Public Health Service, whence the government's studies of this plague have been directed, there is now going forward what is from a scientific point of view the most important work of campaign. All of the data gathered while the disease was raging is now being classified, charted, mapped and studied in an effort to learn the truth about this newest and most mysterious of the deadly diseases.

The layman knows that nearly all of the monkeys in New York have been sacrificed in a study of how the disease is communicated, and he knows that several different scientific societies and individuals are said to have isolated as many different organisms, which are held responsible for it. But of the extensive study of the disease with regard to its spread and incidence, which played a much larger part in the actual fight against it, he has heard little or nothing.

The headquarters of the fight against "polio" as it is dubbed by the men of science, look like those of a general in the field. And indeed, generalship—deduction, plan and action—is the quality that counts in the combating of an epidemic.

The walls in this medical campaign headquarters are covered with maps and charts. The maps range all the way from an immense one of the United States to large scale maps of single wards in New York city. All of them are stuck full of little pins with various-colored heads, so that the whole effect is exactly like that of war maps. There are larger pins that represent ten cases each, and smaller ones for single cases, while the colors indicate the month in which the disease appeared. The charts are curves, mathematically plotted, and show graphically the rise and fall of the disease.

Now before you can understand the use of maps and charts in fighting a plague, you must know something of the mystery which surrounds this disease. In the first place, it was unknown until about sixty-five years ago, and then appeared only as a slight and occasional malady. Small epidemics were first reported in the late eighties, and some fairly large ones about ten years ago; but it was never before known that infant paralysis could develop into such a widespread and deadly plague as has just swept the country. This development is generally explained by the assumption that the germ of the disease has been in process of evolution; for germs, like higher organisms, may evolve, degenerate and perish.

This great epidemic having suddenly burst out, like a ground-fire in a forest, at hundreds of widely separated places, the question confronting the men of science, was how does it travel? The thing might be stated this way: Let A represent a child who has the disease and B a child who is susceptible to it. The medium between the two is all of man's environment. How, then, is the disease transmitted through that medium?

There are two ways of tackling the problem. One is the laboratory method of trying to isolate the organism and find a specific that will kill it. The other is the field study, which is much like the method of a modern detective of crime. Every move and trace of the mysterious visitant is studied, and deductions made as to how it works and what it is.

Naturally, before you can proceed by this second method, you must have a theory of the matter, which you will try either to prove or disprove. There is no use looking for the murderer if the victim may have been struck by lightning. So, in this case, the conclusions of Wickman, a Swedish scientist who studied the disease in 1905, are taken as an hypothesis. He believed that the disease is spread by actual physical contact, and that the germs may be carried by persons who do not develop the symptoms of the disease themselves. Now the scientist sets out either to prove this theory correct or establish another in its place.

The last part of it—that the germs are borne by persons who do not develop the symptoms—has been demonstrated in the laboratory. The subjects of the experiment were parents who had fondled a child that had the disease. A monkey was infected with virus from their noses and throats. He quickly developed the symptoms. But would ordinary physical contact have conveyed the disease from these persons to others? Likewise, what persons become carriers, and how may they be recognized so that they may be quarantined?

You can readily see that if all persons who had the disease and all who were carriers of it were quarantined, an epidemic could be quickly checked. But it is impossible to quarantine all persons who have in any way come in contact with a sick child, especially since many of the cases will not be reported to the health authorities until they are several days old. Hence to learn how to diagnose the carrier, and exactly how he functions as a purveyor of germs is the great problem.

In this study of spread, the maps play an important part. For example, a glance at them shows what might otherwise never have been fully appreciated, that the disease travels along railroad lines. The little rows of pins follow every trunk line in New York and Pennsylvania, and even run up the spurs. Needless to say, this is pretty strong confirmation of the contact theory of spread.

Another striking fact revealed by the maps is that the plague affects a larger number of people in the rural districts than in the city. Richmond and Queens had far more cases in proportion to their populations than did crowded Manhattan. That the disease is not spread by crowding would at first seem to argue against the contact theory of contagion; but the doctors say no. Many other communicable diseases spread more rapidly in the country than in the city. For some reason the proportion of immune persons is nearly always smaller in the country.

Another lesson of the maps is that the disease travels in waves, like those that radiate from the spot where a rock has struck a pool of water. It seems to advance about fifty miles at a time. This is one of the mysterious and unaccountable facts about it. So are the facts children about two years of age form the great majority of its victims and that it seems to occur almost always in the summer months, though other diseases, which like it, affect the respiratory tract, prevail in cold weather. No cause or principle has been discovered to account for any of these characteristics.

The basis of the public health service's study of the disease is the "case card." These are blanks which are carried about by the physicians and filled out with all possible information about each case. Seven hundred of these case cards were made out during the epidemic, and the results are still being tabulated and studied.

Laboratory study of the disease has likewise made progress without reaching a solution. Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute has isolated a very minute organism which he says is the cause of it; but he has so far discovered no specific. Dr. Rosenow, on the other hand, has recently announced that one of the large class of germs known as streptococci is responsible, and claims to have infected monkeys with poliomyelitis by injecting these germs.

The public health service frankly admits that the problem has not been solved. Exactly how the disease is carried, and how the carriers should be identified remains a mystery. Should another epidemic break out next year, like this one it would have to run its course.

Nevertheless great gains have been made. Much has been learned about how to care for the victims in order to save them from maiming. It has been definitely determined that the disease is not generally borne by milk or other food, and that in all probability neither animals nor insects play a significant part in its spread. So by a process of elimination, the scientists are drawing close to the truth.

CLAMS OREGON FOR HUGHES
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—Telegraphing western republican headquarters at Chicago Monday, Ralph E. Williams, national committeeman from this state, representing his belief that Hughes would carry Oregon by a margin of at least 25,000 votes. Democrats declared themselves confident that Wilson will win here by a safe majority.

After an experience of 25 years, during which time 50 million Americans have used Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly, the manufacturers of this remedy feel so sure that it will relieve catarrh—that they offer to pay for a chance to prove its benefit to any catarrhal sufferer. They announce that any resident of this community can go to almost any drug store and get a complimentary trial can at the expense of the manufacturers.

If the druggist has no gratuitous packages, the person may buy a 25 cent tube with the unqualified understanding that if that first tube does not do that person more than a dollar's worth of good, he or she can get their quarter back from either the druggist or the Kondon Company at Minneapolis. Over 35,000 druggists know Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly is effective, harmless, clean and pleasant to apply—and they know the Kondon people will gladly live up to this offer—"quarter back if not worth a dollar." BERLIN CLAIMS ALLIES LOSSES HEAVY IN WEST

British Fail in Many Attempts After Their Heavy Attacks of Monday, Says War Office

ARTILLERY REPORTED

London Says Germans Apparently Have Strengthened the Positions Taken in Monday's Fighting

BERLIN, via Sayville, L. I., Nov. 7.—Heavy losses have been sustained by French and British forces in the past few days of their powerful offensive, the war office stated Tuesday. Australian troops suffered especially on Sunday, as did French attacking forces which charged time after time across fields covered with their own dead.

"In the group of Crown Prince Rupprecht," the statement said, "although the English visibly intended to continue their heavy attacks yesterday, they only succeeded east of Court L'Abbaye in leaving their trenches and were forced immediately to return."

"The English losses of dead November fifth were especially considerable in the Australian divisions and the French delivered their last attacks across ground covered with dead."

"The attacks were resumed against Les Bouffes and Rancourt toward nightfall. They were all broken down in the face of our heavy fire."

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Continued activity on practically all fronts, with severe fighting at some points, has marked the past twenty-four hours. At all but one or two points the entente allied armies developed strong offensives with what appears to have been gratifying success in some instances.

Since the partially successful German counter attacks which for a time checked French and British storming lines that had swept into German trenches along the Somme there has been no claim from Berlin to refute London and Paris war office statements that the terrain captured has been consolidated.

Although infantry operations on the west front died down late Monday, there was heavy artillery, the English night report mentioning specially heavy shelling of the British front.

British positions about Butte de Warlencourt, south of Bapume, where terrific fighting has centered in the offensive, were improved Monday night. General Haig reported to the war office Tuesday.

The Germans appear to have consolidated their regained ground in the region of Butte de Warlencourt, where counter attacks drove the British from hard won trenches.

In Pierre Vaast wood the French troops during the night continued combing out the Germans who were not expelled or captured during the first rushes.

The Rumanians apparently have failed to retrieve their defeat in the Predeal region, where the Austro-Germans captured Laomu height, but they appear to have maintained the positions won in the Dobruja region where they drove the enemy out of three villages.

Rumanians Claim Advance

BUCHAREST, Nov. 7.—Rumanian armies on the Dobruja front have advanced along the whole line, the war office announced Tuesday afternoon.

Berlin Claims Russian Success

BERLIN, via Sayville, Nov. 7.—By what the war office statement of Tuesday terms "a surprising advance," Austrian troops on Monday occupied an important height west of Kirlibaba. One hundred Russians were captured.

Rumanian attacks in northern Wallachia were completely repulsed. A small bridgehead on the left bank of the Stochod has been stormed and taken, and a number of prisoners captured by Prince Leopold's armies, the war office announced. The Germans suffered no losses.

Rheims Shelled

BERLIN, via Sayville, Nov. 7.—German artillery has again been forced to shell Rheims, the war office announced Tuesday.

"Fire of French batteries standing south of Rheims having played upon villages behind our front, was answered by us and as a reprisal the town of Rheims was shelled," said the statement.

Ammunition Depot Destroyed

BERLIN, via Sayville, Nov. 7.—A large ammunition depot at Ceresy, on the Somme, has been destroyed by German squadrons, the war office announced on Tuesday.

INFANT PARALYSIS TAKES A LIFE IN KICKAPOO VALLEY

VIOLA, Wis.—(Special)—A young son of Pearl Pelton of Viola died in that village Sunday morning after a short illness with infantile paralysis. There are two more cases in the Bliss Hull home, a daughter and son being afflicted. It is thought both children will recover.

This is the first appearance of the dreaded disease in the Kickapoo Valley. The homes are under quarantine but schools have not as yet been closed.

WOLFE TALKS TO 4,000 PEOPLE IN HOME-TOWN DASH

Blaring Band Pilots Democratic Candidate All Over the City in Last of Campaign

THIRTY AUTOS MAKE TRIP

"I'm Going Home to Sleep," Says Candidate at Conclusion of Strenuous Day

In an enthusiastic series of the after meetings and open-air speeches made on street corners from an automobile, Attorney William F. Wolfe, democratic candidate for the United States senator, closed a long and hard campaign with a home-coming party in La Crosse Monday night. It is estimated that Mr. Wolfe spoke to 4,000 people in his whirlwind tour.

In all of the short addresses the candidate made, he asked that his home city and La Crosse county endorse him. The evening ended with receptions at Elks', Eagles' and La Crosse clubs.

A string of thirty automobiles, their horns tooting and occupants shouting, left the Stoddard hotel at 7 o'clock. The party sped to the Dreamland theater, Caledonia and St. Paul streets, led by the Normal school band. Mayor Arthur A. Bentley introduced Attorney Wolfe to an audience which filled every seat in the little theater. The Dreamland was shaken by the lively music of the band. When it subsided, and the cheers were over, Attorney Wolfe talked for three minutes.

Hoarse at Start
His voice was decidedly hoarse, but he spoke in his characteristic vigorous manner and as the evening lengthened, his natural voice returned.

Leaving the Dreamland amid another series of cheers and horn tootings, the party of Wolfe boosters, all wearing large red Wolfe ribbons and buttons, ran to the Dome theater on Rose street. Mr. Wolfe spoke in the theater and also from an automobile outside.

On the trip to the south side the Normal band struck up "On Wisconsin", and every horn screeched. The large party stopped in front of the Majestic theater. Attorney Wolfe addressed his largest audience from the sidewalk. At the conclusion, an automobile parade, headed by the band boys, on foot, marched to the Casino. An address was made there, and on the corner of Third and Main streets. Harry Burford, manager of the Bijou theater, held a large crowd in his house until the street corner address was finished. Attorney Wolfe spoke in the theater. Following his last public address, the parade of machines wound their way down South Third street, and east on Jackson street to the Strand theater. The party found the house in darkness, however.

Receptions at Clubs
Receptions at the Elks', Eagles' and La Crosse clubs followed. Large numbers of club men were present, and the candidate spoke to them briefly.

Attorney Wolfe did not touch political issues, during any of his addresses of Monday, or Monday night. "I am going home to sleep," he said when the last address of the evening was finished.

AUSTRIAN DIVER SUNK BY ITALIAN TRANSPORT ESCORT

ROME, Aug. 7.—An Austrian submarine that attacked a troop laden Italian transport was sunk in an engagement with a torpedo boat escort to the transport, the admiralty announced Tuesday.

The torpedo boat was so badly damaged it sank later. The transport escaped damage. Most of the torpedo boat's crew was saved and the crew of the submarine taken prisoners.

DE SOTO COUPLE WED AT WINONA GROOM IS SCRIBE

DE SOTO, Wis.—(Special.)—Eugene S. Owen and Miss Bernice Wakefield, both of this village, were married at Winona Wednesday morning, while enroute to Manly, Iowa, where the groom has secured a position with a newspaper.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Owen of this place and for the past six years has held a position in the Argus office.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wakefield of this place.

Organize Club
The young people of De Soto have organized a new club known as the Tan-Eti-Ep club. The organization meeting was held with Miss Ina Bootsma. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. J. R. Garber, president; Miss Maybelle Miller, vice president; Miss Margaret Heasty, secretary; Miss Mayne Bartholomew, treasurer; Miss Inez Adams entertained the club November 2.

Mrs. Wakefield Dies
Mrs. Charles Wakefield passed away Sunday morning in a La Crosse hospital, where she had been taken in hopes of securing relief from a severe malady with which she had become suddenly afflicted. The funeral was on Tuesday, the remains being laid to rest in Walnut Mount cemetery at Retreat. She was a woman of about 35 years of age, the mother of a boy about 7 years of age.

She is survived by her husband and two brothers, Richard and William Witterat of this place.

Local and Personal

Deer Tracks at Retreat
Last Monday morning fresh deer tracks were discovered on the C. A. Battle's place, Retreat. Old timers inspected the footprints and pronounced them unmistakably the spoor of a deer. The report of deer tracks further east along the "hog back" have recently been frequent, but these at Retreat are the first seen in that section for many years. It is supposed that northern forest fires have driven some deer southward.

WHY ADOLPH CANDRIAN IS FOR HUGHES

Neighbor Adolph Candrian submits that, since in our friendly tilts we have quoted fragmentarily from his reasons, "Why I am for Hughes", it would be rather fairer to him were we to publish the entire article. Gladly we consented, but in the crush of advertising Monday the story was crowded out. While the election is practically over, it is assumed that Editor Candrian's wish was not to be misunderstood on half a hearing, rather than to seek political effect, and so we give his argument a prominent place in Tuesday's TRIBUNE:

(By Adolph Candrian)
Because I consider him an ideal representative of American manhood and character, of thorough business experience, of proven worth and superior ability, a statesman of action and not of empty words—in short, a man of the people and for the people, and inspired with rock-bottom Americanism to his very soul. If the American people are fully conscious of our country's history, if their eyes are open to the future before us, they will not only favor Hughes, but elect him with a landslide majority.

The German-Americans are, first of all, and above all, good and true American citizens. They have been such, in peace and war, since Washington's time and even long before. To all question their Americanism, is to cruelly slander them.

A subsidized pro-British press in this country has for years and years systematically poisoned the public mind. The absurd ridiculous contention is advanced that Germany broods war upon us, Germany, of all nations on earth, has given us most of its best blood and brain. Germany never has been, and in the nature of things, never will be nor can be anything but our friend. If not the German-Americans would be in the very first ranks to fight the kaiser, and to fight him to a finish.

The German-Americans are fundamentally opposed to Wilson. Why?

In his messages and otherwise, he has branded them as "Creatures of hatred and anarchy,"—not because they courted any favor for their mother country beset by a whole world of enemies, but because they wanted simple right and justice for it, as against our country's arch and lifelong foe, England. Wilson is the first and only president in our whole history to incite hatred of one class of citizens against another. And yet the German-Americans, every one of them, as a man, as a citizen, as a professional or business man, as an artisan and worker, as a soldier and patriot—is the peer of Woodrow Wilson.

Wilson's record of nearly four years is too long and too sad to be recounted here. "He has kept us"—to quote Sherman—"out of hell" when no nation on earth ever dreamt of war against us, unless it were England and its yellow ally, Japan. In less than four years, Wilson, aided by a muzzled congress, has lowered our standing among nations, our prestige in the world almost to the level of poor China's, with not a single mighty friend on earth left us. Wilson has loaded dear old Uncle Sam's back with mortgages it will take half a generation to unload.

You may ask: "What will Mr. Hughes do for us now?" I will tell you: "He can and very likely will put a temporary embargo on all exports from our country," as warmly advocated long ago by our great Governor Philipp. That will give us cheaper bread and cheaper living conditions immediately. It will in less than two months bring the awful European carnage to an end, and assure peace among the nations. Incidentally it will, to be sure, close down our weapon and ammunition factories, but it will set our teeming millions of workmen and artisans busy making tools and things of peace for the distressed and exhausted Europeans, instead of articles for blood-shed and murder. And that will be the time when our beloved country will again assume the makings and the semblance of a peer and a hero among the world's powers, instead of being despised by them all.
